“SHOUT AND WHISPER”

£7.99 + P&P

- A5 Book and CD
- Exclusive to Bawdsey Radar

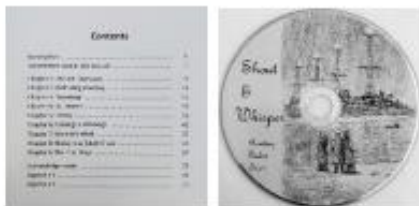

Our “Shout and Whisper” oral history book and CD is one of our best kept secrets. Historically important, we think it is time we started to ‘shout’ about its unique contents!

The idea for the title “Shout and Whisper” was drawn from the massive outgoing radar pulse and the tiny, received echo.

It is packed full of fascinating reminiscences from the men and women involved with radar at RAF Bawdsey from 1936 onwards. The stories and anecdotes are accompanied by beautiful pen and ink drawings by local artist Mark Beesley.

The CD contains many of the voices of the oral history participants, bringing alive the extraordinary experiences of the people involved with the development and use of radar at Bawdsey.

The Magic Ear

Jenny Webb

THE MAGIC EAR

£5.99 + P&P

- 15cm x 21cm
- 71 pages
- Colour
- Author Jenny Webb
- Published 2017
- Age range 8 – 11 years

When author Jenny Webb moved to Bawdsey and learned about the ground breaking events that had taken place just down the road, she was inspired to write this story for young people.

“When Tom asks his Gran for a memory from World War 2, little does he imagine that his Great Granny Jean played a key role in one of Britain’s wartime secrets – working as a radar operator at Bawdsey Manor.

A box of Great Granny Jean’s memorabilia from WW2 is the starting point for an adventure into history where together, Tom and Gran learn all about radar, ‘The Magic Ear’, and how it affects our lives today. Along the way Tom comes across Martello Towers, WW1 and WW2 military structures which show this remote corner of the Suffolk coast has always faced dangers from across the sea.”

A lovely children’s adventure story set at Bawdsey which would appeal to inquisitive youngsters.
